

the natural alternative to steroids for eczema & psoriasis

Newsletter 27

November 2006 : Autumn Issue

It must be time for a new newsletter. The Autumn weather always makes eczema better and it is such a lovely time of year. Blue skies, caressing gentle breezes and the robin announcing autumn coming. We are still managing to get an increasing number of our clients our range via the NHS. This is magic news for all of us. I still urge those with no luck so far not to give up. Perhaps try a locum or simply persevere. If a product clearly works for an eczema sufferer there is no reason why any doctor would deny the patient the right to use it via the NHS. We are on most software programmes for your doctor to find us under Elena's Nature Collection and all the products are available on prescription. Note no side effects notified in 20 years. We are here to help and urge everyone to persevere.

The new Illumination cream has proven very successful. Some just prefer it to Eureka, others like using both (like myself). What a treat! They are so substantial and last ages. The new Radiance Eye Cream has also proven to be exactly what it is meant to be. It tightens the skin around the eyes and feeds the delicate skin with unique substances creating that radiance all notice.

Our new web-site has finally been launched (www.elenasnaturecollection.co.uk). It took seven months to produce and an enormous amount of time and devotion. We are all gagging for feedback. Please let us know how you like it, what you do and don't like, any comments are welcome.

One of our house sitters happily used up all my Trinity soap while we were on holiday and when I put it to his attention he commented that surely I have all my range on tap and 50 pence for a bottle of soap wouldn't harm anyone. How sad as he clearly lapped it up and the The value of producing our products is very high. Quality products are what we produce. Once you work out the cost of good food and homemade cakes it is shocking, but worth it.

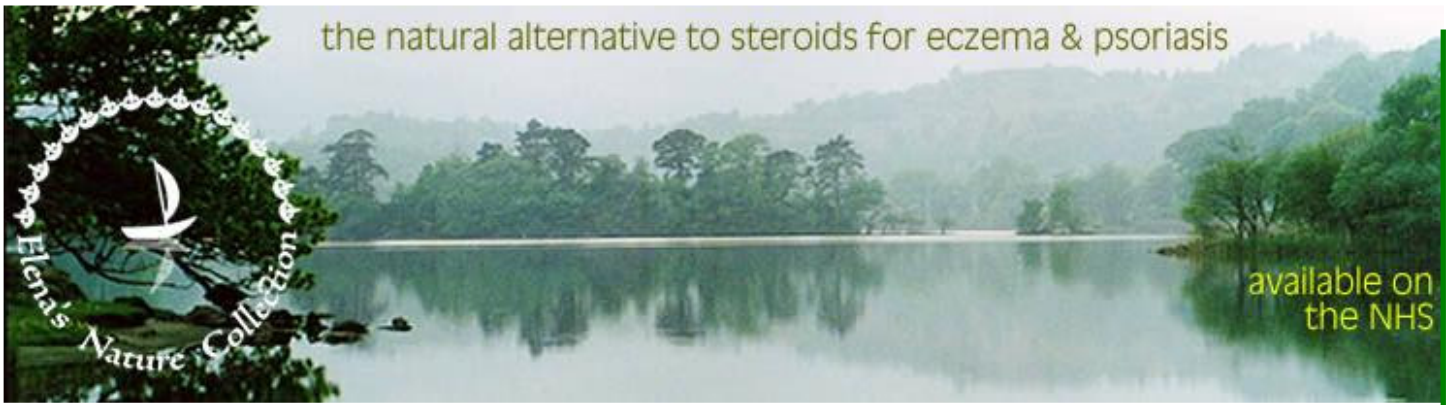

We are pleased that an increased amount of women including Baronesses and Ladies swear to ENC. Nothing compares they say.

My book is sadly not selling well at all. Maybe I should advertise it differently. The feedback I get is that people generally loved reading my stories, found them inspiring and couldn't put the book down. So do not be put off by the spiritual side although indeed profound. Sometimes it suffices just to read it and let the subconscious digest the rest slowly.

A fabulous book to read is Eckhart Tolle: The Power of Now that is however deeply spiritual, as is his latest book 'A New Earth'.

the natural alternative to steroids for eczema & psoriasis

Newsletter 27

November 2006 : Autumn Issue

My Christmas offer therefore is, my book 'The Fate you Create' for £5.50 inc. p&p instead of £8.00.

Remember, all our products make a unique Christmas gift. With orders over £75.00 our Christmas gift to you is a FREE 50g Night Cream Extra. Use it yourself for Beauty or as a gift for someone for Christmas.

Wishing you all a Happy Yuletide and a Good New Year.

Elena and the Team!

